Fully Planned Wedding

Most brides marry in their hometown, and so have a regular hairdresser, maybe have a friend who knows a local photographer, and Mum probably knows the florist down the road and so on.

So, it is not that difficult to arrange the basic requirements for your wedding day yourself.

Why use a wedding planner/ wedding coordinator?

So why spend that little extra and use a wedding planner?

- By using a specialist wedding company like South Pacific Bridal to plan your wedding, you are dealing with a long established business that has no peer. We contract only the very best suppliers, who have demonstrated to us over many years, their reliability, excellence in their profession, and enthusiasm towards each and every wedding.
- Your wedding planner ensures you are involved in all the decision-making processes during the planning stages of your wedding, which in many cases can be a year before the actual day. During this exciting time, being able to relay your needs and then make a selection from options provided by your wedding planner, saves you precious time and removes the worry of choosing the wrong suppliers. Your wedding planner, because of her extensive experience, can offer suggestions that may not have occurred to you or a way of adding something to your ideas that will enhance the result.
- When we source your requirements, in most cases we are able to obtain a more competitive price than would be available to you; it is simply a matter of volume.
- The day of your wedding, and the immediate days leading up to it should be a time to reflect on the special occasion that is about to occur, share in the joy of your gathered family and friends and relish the precious moments together with your future husband. Your wedding planner makes this a reality. Having gotten to know her so well during the time you have spent in preparation for this momentous occasion, you have complete faith and the utmost trust that she has, and will continue, to take care of every detail.
- Your Wedding planner on the day of your wedding becomes your wedding coordinator. With a detailed running sheet listing the exact timing of each supplier's arrival, what he or she is bringing, and where to deliver, precision is assured.

South Pacific Bridal prides itself on having an unsurpassed reputation that has been built up over many years. One of the reasons for this reputation is that our exceptional wedding coordinators direct every wedding. Whether in the capacity of simply helping you on the day if you have arranged your own suppliers and are doing your own thing, to being your wedding planner and fully coordinating every aspect of your wedding, on the day.
